

A high-contrast, black and white silhouette illustration of a beach scene at sunset. In the foreground, a large silhouette of a surfer stands on the left, holding a surfboard aloft. In the background, two smaller silhouettes of surfers are visible: one carrying a surfboard under their arm and another carrying a surfboard on their shoulder. A large, bright yellow sun is positioned in the center background, partially obscured by the silhouettes. The sky is a gradient of yellow and orange, and the beach is depicted with dark, textured footprints.
